

TRANSITION KIT BURSARY ($150)

Dear Applicants, transitioning out of care can be a really scary and lonely endeavour, but also a time to take pride in your household and pride in your accomplishments. Many young people in/from care have reported that they did not feel emotionally or financially ready to be independent at 19. At the FBCYICN we witness your struggle and feel that this bursary will help alleviate some of the financial burden you face as you begin your journey into adulthood.

This bursary provides youth in/from care (14–24) with a $150 transition kit –items that will support young people who are transitioning to independence. FBCYICN defines “in care” as continuing custody orders (or permanent ward), temporary custody orders (temporary ward), youth agreements, kith and kin agreements (now extended family plan), voluntary care agreements, correctional facilities (secure and open custody) and various specialized government agreements¹.

This bursary does not replace the transition money given to some young people in care; it is meant to supplement it. Transition money varies for many reasons including care status and need. This bursary is a competitive process and only 2–3 applicants per region will be selected.

Applicants will not receive money directly.

If selected to receive this bursary, FBCYICN will purchase a transition kit based on what the applicant indicates on their wish list and have them shipped directly to the young person. When this is not possible, FBCYICN will make alternate arrangements to have their desired list delivered to the applicant.

Eligibility requirements (must meet all these requirements):

- * Youth 14 –25 years old (cannot be older than 25)
- * In or from government care in BC
- * Has not received a transition kit from FBCYICN before
- * Either currently living on their own or will be in eight months

Applicants will be notified a FBCYICN staff member approximately 2–3 weeks after the application deadline.

For current deadlines, please see the Transitions page on our website:

Thanks for applying to this bursary. Supporting young people as they become independent is very important part of our work as an organization. We wish we could give this and more to each and every one of you who applies. Better still, that these kits weren't needed at all.

Warmly,

The Federation of BC Youth in Care Networks
